Rescue CD-ROM: Software Restoration Toolkit (3/94)

Article Created: 15 March 1994

TOPIC -----

I've heard there's a Rescue CD-ROM called the Software Restoration Toolkit which contains net install versions of System Software, as well as bundled software for all Macintosh computers. How can I purchase a copy?

DISCUSSION -----

The Rescue CD-ROM you refer to is called the Software Restoration Toolkit and is solely for Authorized Service Providers to restore software bundles (System Software and bundled applications) to computers that have had hard disks repaired or replaced during service. If you are an Authorized Service Provider, you can purchase one from the Apple Service order line.
