

Tech Info Library

HyperCard: How to Find Programmers/Consultants

Article Created: 13 April 1988

Article Last Reviewed: 3 June 1992

Article Last Updated: 3 June 1992

There are several avenues for a business or other user to make contact with HyperCard programmers and consultants.

A request posted on AppleLink, in the Developer Services or User Groups bulletin board, will reach a wide number of Apple-oriented developers. Also, the readers of these bulletin boards network in turn with an even greater number of potential candidates.

Don't overlook the many electronic services, which include: GENie, Source, America Online, and CompuServe. Many of the most highly skilled and up-to-date programmers regularly access these services.

Copyright 1990, 1992, Apple Computer, Inc.

Keywords: <None>

This information is from the Apple Technical Information Library.

19960215 11:05:19.00

Tech Info Library Article Number: 2875