OpenDoc: Latest Version & Release History (7/96)

Article Created: 25 July 1996

TOPIC ---

What is the latest version and release history of OpenDoc?

DISCUSSION --

The latest release of OpenDoc is 1.0.4, also known as Developer Release 5 (DR5).
This is the fifth release of OpenDoc and new releases have been coming about every four months. The first three releases were primarily intended for developers, and of little interest to the general public. Developer Release 4 corresponded to the first version 1.0 public release.

Here is a summary of dates of the DR releases

OpenDoc with SOM (DR1) - December, 1994

OpenDoc with SOM (DR2) - April, 1995

OpenDoc (DR3) - August, 1995

OpenDoc 1.0 (DR4) - December, 1995
Highlights: CFM-68K and CyberDog A3c1, bug fixes & performance optimizations, consolidation of CFM extension library files from 13 down to 3.

OpenDoc 1.0.4 (DR5) - April, 1996
Highlights: OpenDoc source code, ODF Release 1, third party components, Apple
"Kickstart Components"

At the World Wide Developers Conference in May, 1996, CyberDog version 1.0
became available which requires OpenDoc 1.0.4.
