Article Created: 9 May 1996

TOPIC -----

Where can I locate public domain (freeware) or shareware software for the Macintosh?

DISCUSSION -----

There are a variety of sources including commercial online services such as CompuServe, America Online, and Prodigy, Macintosh user groups, and the internet.

For a list of sites on the internet which have large postings of public domain software, commonly referred to as "info-mac" sites, use the following URL:
