TOPIC -----

Excel 3.0 does not seem to be saving changes under System 7.

DISCUSSION -----

Under System 7, if you open an Excel 2.2 document or text file with Excel 3.0, then Save, the Save dialog box opens automatically to the folder where the Excel application resides. According to Microsoft, this is a feature because the file is "new" (converted). The original document, in a different folder, is not overwritten.

If you later open the original document, you might think your changes were never saved.

Here are two workarounds:

- Before saving, navigate back to the original folder and replace the old file.
- Keep Excel 3.0 and your Excel documents in the same folder.
