Newton 2.0 OS: How to Move All Application Data (12/95)

Article Created: 12 December 1995

TOPIC -----

Is there a way to move all of the data, for instance my Names, from a PC-card to the internal memory, or to a particular folder?

DISCUSSION -----

Yes you can move the data. Here are the steps you need:

Note:

This procedure moves all of the data. Do Not use this procedure if you only want to move some of the data.

Step 1

-----
Open the Extras Drawer

Step 2

-----
Choose the Storage folder. Do this by tapping on the folder tab.

Step 3

-----
Tap on the Names icon.

Step 4

-----
Tap on the folder button.

A slip appears with several options. You can file all of your names data in the internal memory or on a PC-card. In either location, you can store this data in a folder of your choice. This feature is supported on all of the built-in application's data, with the exception of Time Zones.

To move only certain names, refer to the topic "Filing multiple items and cards" in the "Organizing and Finding Information" section of the Apple MessagePad Handbook.
